Comanche Has Seventeen In All-District Band

By Jack King, CHS Band Director

Saturday, November 5 was a banner day for the students of our Indian Band. Fifteen students made the first all-district band while two made the second all-district band.

The first band of the all-district band is made up of 85 of the most talented students in this section of the state, while the second band consists of 105 members. The "All-District" has no bearing whatsoever on our athletic district. It is made up of some 28 schools of this area. Over 300 came prepared to try out for the various chairs. On most cases the competition is extremely keen.

The All-District Band was organized 14 years ago. At that time only three schools participated — Eastland, Breckenridge and Comanche. Since that time it has grown to its present size. Students from Comanche, Hamilton, Granbury, De Leon, Ranger, Cisco, Stephenville, Sonora, Mason, Bangs, Brownwood, Ballinger, Breckenridge, Brady, Paschal of Fort Worth, Dublin, Hico, Glen Rose, Cross Plains, Eastland, Albany, Goldthwaite, San Saba, Baird, Junction, Santa Anna, Early, Gorman, and Rising Star participated in the all day affair.

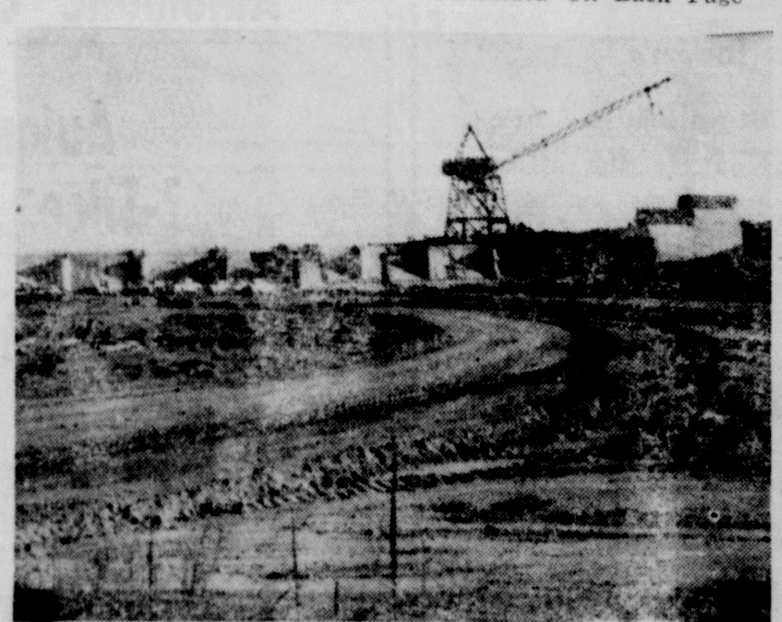

Comanche, with 17, had the largest group making the All-District Bands, with Cisco ranking second with 13 members.

The following Comanche Band students placed in the First Band. Grady Hall, senior, 1st chair bass horn; 9 chosen.

Sue Albin, senior, 4th chair tenor sax; 18 chosen.

Lynn Brown, freshman, 1st chair alto sax; 23 chosen.
Tim Slider, senior, 6th chair chair bassoon, 5 chosen.
David Chambers, freshman, 1st French horn; 12 chosen.
Autie Mae Merrell, freshman 1st chair oboe; 5 chosen.
Richard Frazier, sophomore, 6th chair oboe; 5 chosen.

PROCTOR LAKE BED SCENE—Approval of the go ahead to close the channel of the Leon River has been received by Armstrong & Ryan Contracting Company, from the U. S. Corps of Army Engineers. This phase of the dirt contract has been sub-contracted to Moorman and Singleton, Dallas, who started in moving Uclids and other machinery in at the Proctor Dam site Thursday. Two bays of the spillway weir sections, the two on the extreme right, will remain open. A coffer dirt dam will be built directly above the permanent dam—and will back up some 500 acre feet of water.

Seeking 4th. Straight 8-AA Win Indians Face Lions In Dublin Friday

The Comanche Indians will journey to neighboring Dublin Friday night, to take on the Lions in an important District 8-AA game. Kick-off time is 7:30 o'clock.

The Indians, after a slow start this season having dropped all five of their non-conference games, are now enjoying their longest winning streak in five years—having put three victories in a row into the record books.

Dublin a scrappy young ball club, will be seeking its first district win—and are sure to have something "big" planned for the Indians. The Lions played a good Hamilton club to a 6-6 tie—and last week put on a good showing against De Leon, before losing in the final quarter, 16-8. Granbury dumped the Lions 32-20.

Coch Reger Oliver's improving Indians have shown a good offense in annexing three 8-AA this week; however, they lost the services of a defensive regular, John Wilson, who was injured in a car wreck Saturday night, for at least a week. Wilson, a small but aggressive youngster, has been promoted to a regular as a defensive end. Bob Allen, regular defensive tackle, is expected to go two ways this week-end, and take over this defensive wing post.

Expected starts, on offense for the Indians: Bob Carpenter and Billy Williams, ends; Bob Allen and Charles Wright, tackles; Jim Jarratt and Freddie Chappel, guards; Skipper Shumpes, center; Jerry Norris, quarterback; Jerry Todd, halfback; Ladoy Northcutt or Jerry Foreman, fullback; and Foreman or Don Feist, wingback.

The Indians escaped without any new injuries in the Hamilton contest, or workouts

Comanche County Voters Favor Connally Over Cox, 1460-971

Bruce Alger, the Republican Congressman from Dallas, was re-elected by a vote of 89,932 over Democrat Bill Jones who received 70,304.

A second Texas Republican was elected to Congress when Ed Foreman, 28-year-old Odessa upset veteran Congressman J. T. Rutherford (D) from the 18th District by a vote of 43,480 to 37,293. It was alleged in the campaign that Rutherford had received a campaign check for $1,500 from Billy Sol Estes.

The only other close congressional race was in the 3rd District where Lindley Beckworth, Democrat, of Gladewater was re-elected by a vote of 27,229 to 25,025 over William Stegler, Tyler Republican.

Nine of the 14 proposed amendments to the Tuesday Constitution, were apparently approved by voters. The much-discussed No. 14 Trial De Novo, was voted down by Texans.

4-H AND FFA STEERS SHOWING GOOD GAINS

Comanche County's first Fall Showmanship Steer Show got underway at 8 a.m. Saturday, Nov. 3rd, at the Comanche County Livestock Show Barns. Thirty 4-H and FFAers brought their calves in to be weighed. Gayle McCullough, weight chairman for the show, reported that the calves as a whole are showing good gains and look as if they will be promising January entries in the Comanche County Junior Livestock Show set for January 12-19, 1963.

Grady Paul Ripley's calf, tipping the scales at 630 pounds, showed the largest weight gain, which was 170 pounds in 48 days. Running Grady Paul a close race was his younger brother, David, whose calf showed a gain of 163 pounds. Other youths whose calves showed high 48 day weight gains were both Vicki and Tommy Pipes, Comanche 4-H, had gained 145 pounds; Richard James, Sidney 4-H, 140 pounds, and Tommy Couch of Gustine FFA, a gain of 140 pounds.

Walter McCullough and Buddy Lane of the Newburg 4-H Club gave a demonstration on brushing and grooming calves for show. The boys were coached by Ernest Davis, Junior Assistant County Agricultural Agent. Davis gave the group a demonstration on washing calves and also was responsible for planning the show.

Johnny Cleveland, of Dudley Bros. Hereford Ranch, gave the group tips on clipping and preparing calves for show. Claude McInnis of May, professional

Last Tuesday, Texans voted on 14 proposed amendments to our State Constitution. Some of the amendments were good, some bad. But as long as our present constitution lasts, the Bill of Rights as expressed in our Constitution, cannot be changed by the voters.

We regard them to be so sacred that the only way they can be changed is for us to make an entirely new Constitution; or they might be changed by decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States. So far this has never happened.

Here are the main features of our Bill of Rights:
The present Constitution of Texas was adopted by a Constitutional Convention convened at Austin, September 8, 1875, and ratified by a vote of the people of Texas on February 5, 1876.

The Preamble to the Constitution of Texas reads as follows: "Humbly invoking the blessings of Almighty God, the people of the State of Texas do ordain and establish this Constitution."

The First Article of the Constitution consists of the Bill of Rights, set forth in 28 sections and this part of the Constitution has never been amended or changed.

The Bill of Rights opens with this statement: "That the general, great, and essential principles of liberty and free government are hereby recognized and established, we declare:

1. Texas is a free and independent state, subject only to the Constitution of the United States; and the maintenance of our free institutions, and the perpetuity of the Union depends upon the preservation of the right of local self-government unimpaired to all states.

2. The people of Texas have at all times the right to alter, reform, or abolish their government in such manner as they may think expedient.

3. All free men have equal rights, and no men nor set of men, are entitled to exclusive separate public emoluments, or privileges except in consideration of public service.

4. No religious test shall ever be required as a qualification to any office or public trust nor shall any one be excluded from holding office on account of his religion, provided that he acknowledges the existence of a Supreme Being.

5. No person shall be disqualified to give evidence in any court on account of his religious opinion, or lack of any religious belief.

6. All men have the right to worship God according to the dictate of their own conscience and no man shall be compelled to attend, erect, or support any place of worship and no preference shall ever be given by law to any religious organization.

7. No money shall be appropriated for the benefit of any sect or religious organization.

8. Every person shall be at liberty to speak, write, or publish his own opinions, subject to being responsible for the abuse of that privilege.

9. All people shall be secure in their person and houses and papers from all unreasonable searches and seizures.

10. In criminal prosecutions, the accused shall have the right of a speedy and impartial trial and must be informed of what accusations are made against him.

11. All prisoners before their trial shall be bailable by sufficient securities except for capital offenses when the proof is evident.

12. The Writ of Habeas Corpus shall never be suspended.

13. Excessive bail shall not be required nor excessive fines imposed. All courts shall be open.

14. No person for the same offense shall be twice put in jeopardy and on a verdict of not guilty, a person cannot be tried again for that offense.

15. Any accused person has the right to trial by jury if he so demands.

16. No bill of attainder, ex post facto law, retroactive law, or any law impairing the obligation of contract shall ever be made.

17. No person's property shall ever be taken or applied to public use without adequate compensation.

18. No person shall ever be imprisoned for debt.

19. No person shall be deprived of life, liberty, or property except by due course of the law of the land.

20. No person shall be outlawed, nor shall any person be transported out of the state for any offense committed within the state.

21. No conviction shall work corruption of blood, or forfeiture of estate, and the estate of those who die without heirs shall descend or vest as in the case of natural death.

22. Treason against the State shall consist only in levying war against it, or assisting to the enemy in getting and withstanding the same.

23. No person shall have the right to keep and bear arms in the lawful defense of himself or the State, but the State shall have power by law to regulate the wearing of arms, with a view to prevent crime.

24. The military at all times shall be subordinate to the civil authorities.

25. No soldier, shall, in the time of peace, be quartered in the house of any citizen without the consent of the owner, nor in time of war, but in a manner prescribed by law.

26. Perpetuities and monopolies are contrary to the genius of a free government, and shall never be allowed; nor shall the law of primogeniture or entailments ever be in force in this state. (Note: "Primogeniture" means the right of the eldest son to inherit all the property of a parent. In old times under the English law the eldest son had the exclusive right of inheritance from his parents.)

27. The citizens shall right the right in a peaceful manner, to assemble together for their common good and apply to those in authority for redresses of grievances or other purposes by petition, address, or remonstrance.

28. No power of suspending laws in this state shall be exercised by the Legislature.

29. To guard against the transgression of the high powers herein delegated, we declare that everything in the Bill of Rights, is expected out of the general power of the government, and shall forever remain inviolate, and all laws contrary thereto, shall be void and of no effect.

We are indebted to C. A. Greene for some additional information about the John Wesley Hardin episode, which we are sure is authentic, and we appreciate it very much.

We are going to work up a new story on the Hardin topic soon, covering it more in detail. We do not have copies of The Chief of 1874, the year Hardin killed Webb. Nor do any of the early special editions of The Chief mention the murder, such as the special editions of 1903 and 1907, both by Editor S. J. Thomas; neither does the Golden Anniversary Edition of 1923, published in 1924, mention it.

The late L. B. Russell said that at the time of the trial of Hardin in 1877, the entire court proceedings were taken down in short hand and reproduced in the next issue of The Chief, taking up all the space of the entire paper. Unfortunately, we never have seen that issue.

In her interesting history of Comanche County, the late Mrs. Eulalia Wells gave a short account of the Hardin case; but John Lightfoot, in his unpublished history, does not mention it, as he does not deal much in personal or the social life of the county, but stresses mostly the economic, the political, the industrial and the geological features of the county.

We also want to write soon,

except by due course of the law of the land.

20. No person shall be outlawed, nor shall any person be transported out of the state for any offense committed within the state.

a story about the founding of the City of Comanche and would like to get some more information about it from the oldtimers or anyone else. We would especially would like pictures or newspaper clippings of the early days of the city.

We are especially interested in which sides of the square developed first, or grew more rapidly. What kind of trees were originally on our square—post-oaks, liveoaks, or hackberry?

What residential sections of the town developed first, or any other interesting information about early Comanche City.

We would like to use your name in connection with this article, but since some people do not like publicity, we will omit your name if you request it.

When we first came to Comanche, some of the original settlers were still living in Comanche, such as the Nabers Brothers, Joel, Bailey and Jim.

Then there were Uncle Jack Wright, Clayte Carnes, Mart Fleming, J. D. Bonner, Uncle Billy Carroll, the druggist; Paris Smith, Mrs. Dora Greene, and many others.

There have all passed on now, but their deeds live after them.

Perhaps the best informed woman of today in regard to Comanche County history is Mrs. Nannie Greene Little who has kept a scrapbook since early childhood of clippings from The Chief and other sources dealing with the early history of Comanche County which she deemed worthy of preservation.

While all of the original settlers who first came to Comanche County in the middle of the last century have now passed to the Great Beyond, as have most of their children, there are some of the younger set, who too, are getting a little on the shady side of life, nevertheless, they must possess some interesting information about the early days which are worth passing on. Just to mention a few of them we might list the following:

C. E. Straley, Mart Sherrill,

Comanche Indians
Let us tell you something about the history of the Comanches. The Comanches were a very nomadic people, relying on buffalo, antelope, and other game for their food and skins for clothing and shelter. They were excellent horsemen. Few other Indians could compare with them.

They were called the Lords of the South Plains because they were fierce fighters and raiders. They defeated other Indian tribes such as the Utes, Pawnees, Osages, Tonkawas, Apaches, and Navajos. They raided the entire Southwest and northern Mexico. The Spanish people in New Mexico allowed the Comanches to pass through to Mexico without trying to stop them.

The homes of the Comanches were teepees that could be moved easily. They were a dirty, unornamented, unkempt tribe.

The people were generally short and stocky with round faces. The important thing to the appearance of the man was that he had his hair well greased. The men hunted, raided, and protected the women and children.

The women prepared the food, clothing, and shelter, and cared for the children. They brought wood and water to the campsite. They packed and unpacked the teepee on moving day. They took care of preparing the animals after the men had killed them.

The older women wore blankets all the time. They helped take care of children and cure skins.

The reign of the Comanches came to an end in June 1875 when the few survivors made peace with the United States government at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. There are approximately 2,500

Comanches living today. These warlike people of plains based their traits on dependence upon the buffalo for limited use of roots and berries. There was an absence of culture and fishing.

The moving tipi served dwelling place for these traveling people. In travel used the horse and the dog. Foods were mostly gathered hunters. Buffalo meat was basis of the Comanche diet. Squaws cooked the food over open fire or in a clay pot. Frogs and swine were taboo. The clothing of the adults mostly made of buffalo skin, while children's clothing was made of rabbit skins, headresses were highly decorated, and in decorations the manes sometimes used a bead technique.

The reign of the Comanches came to an end in June 1875 when the few survivors made peace with the United States government at Ft. Sill, Oklahoma. There are approximately 2,500

Comanches living today. These warlike people of plains based their traits on dependence upon the buffalo for limited use of roots and berries. There was an absence of culture and fishing.

The moving tipi served dwelling place for these traveling people. In travel used the horse and the dog. Foods were mostly gathered hunters. Buffalo meat was basis of the Comanche diet. Squaws cooked the food over open fire or in a clay pot. Frogs and swine were taboo. The clothing of the adults mostly made of buffalo skin, while children's clothing was made of rabbit skins, headresses were highly decorated, and in decorations the manes sometimes used a bead technique.

Pottery, basketry, and weaving were not largely among the Comanches. Vessels of original form

Comanche Indians
Let us tell you something about the history of the Comanches. The Comanches were a very nomadic people, relying on buffalo, antelope, and other game for their food and skins for clothing and shelter. They were excellent horsemen. Few other Indians could compare with them.

They were called the Lords of the South Plains because they were fierce fighters and raiders. They defeated other Indian tribes such as the Utes, Pawnees, Osages, Tonkawas, Apaches, and Navajos. They raided the entire Southwest and northern Mexico. The Spanish people in New Mexico allowed the Comanches to pass through to Mexico without trying to stop them.

The homes of the Comanches were teepees that could be moved easily. They were a dirty, unornamented, unkempt tribe.

The people were generally short and stocky with round faces. The important thing to the appearance of the man was that he had his hair well greased. The men hunted, raided, and protected the women and children.

The women prepared the food, clothing, and shelter, and cared for the children. They brought wood and water to the campsite. They packed and unpacked the teepee on moving day. They took care of preparing the animals after the men had killed them.

The older women wore blankets all the time. They helped take care of children and cure skins.

Commissioners Court
Motion carried that from this date Oct. 29, 1962, it is ordered that all members of the Commissioners Court shall not do any work with road machinery and equipment or truck for private citizens of Comanche County unless the same is authorized in compliance with Art. 2372C of the Revised Statutes of State of Texas.

It was voted that the County Commissioners Court when road machinery and equipment is not demanded for the service of building and upkeep of the roads of Comanche County such road machinery and equipment may be used for soil conservation work as provided by Art. 2372C Revised Statutes of Texas. That in event County equipment is available for work as provided by law the charge for same shall be $10.00 per hour for bulldozer work and $7.50 per hour for maintainer work, and charges for terracing etc. shall be in line with that soil conservation service.

Breezeway window goes down—Mercury sales go up...up!

WHY DOES THIS BREEZEWAY REAR WINDOW help sell so many Mercury Monterey? This is styling that works! The recessed rear window stays clearer in rain or snow. It opens for controlled Flo-Thru ventilation. More wind, traffic noise and weather are shut out because the side windows can stay closed. The rear-window angle cuts glare, aids rear visibility. The extended Breezeway roof adds rear-seat headroom, shades passengers from the sun. See how practical elegance can be!

BIG GAME CARTRIDGES

For hard-to-stop game such as grizzly bear and moose experienced big game hunters prefer the heavy, hard hitting types of Remington cartridges with "Core-Lokt" bullets.

The "Core-Lokt" bullet is made with jacket and core locked together. This keeps the bullet in one piece, no matter what it hits! Because of this special design, the "Core-Lokt" bullet penetrates, then mushrooms. Mushrooming is uniform, often reaches double normal caliber.

Newburg Youth Has "Know-How" In Range Management and Conservation

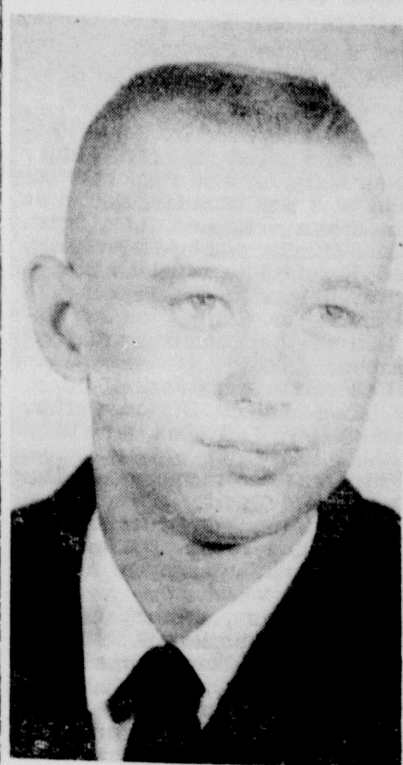

Walter McCullough is a Comanche County 4-H boy with a lot of "know-how" about range management and conservation, despite the fact he carries only the weight of 14 summers on his shoulders. Today he was named one of two state winners in range management for 1962.

The state 4-H Club office announcement said he would receive an expense paid trip to the Annual Range Camp held each summer at Junction. The other winner is David Jacoby of Crockett County. Donor for the awards is the Texas Goat and Sheep Raisers' Association. They also provide meals for county winners and engraved belt buckles for district winners in the program conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Walter is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gayle McCullough, Route 4, Comanche. A five year member of the Newburg 4-H Club and the feeder and exhibitor of many head of prize livestock, especially lambs and breeding sheep. His range management projects were a natural to go with his livestock demonstrations.

In 1959, as a part of the community improvement program, he helped neighbors with 34 soil tests and helped put in the first grass nursery in the community. Since then, he has cared for a grass plot, cleared a 10-acre pasture of prickly pear, had charge of a range conservation plot and has conducted a demonstration on 16 acres where he controlled undesirable vegetation. In addition, he has practiced deferred grazing and pasture rotation; gave a soil and water conservation demonstration that placed first in the district and twice has been a member of the district winning horticultural demonstration team. His adult leaders at Rising Star Tuesday night.

This was the final game of the season for the Paposes. Comanche was playing without the services of one of its star half-backs, Stephen Norris, who suffered a broken arm in a practice session last Thursday.

McCULLOUGH

ers and County Agent Angus Dickson, Jr., his supervisor, rate him as a top 4-H member and leader.

John Simpson, local work unit conservationist with the SCS, has worked closely with young McCullough as he has developed his range management and conservation studies and planning.

Beverle Smith Draws Comment In Play

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Smith and Mr. and Mrs. E. E. W. Chaney, Comanche, attended the performance of "The Man Who Came to Dinner" at the San Angelo College Center Theatre Saturday evening.

In the cast was Beverle Smith, who got the following notice in the San Angelo Standard-Times: "Beverle Smith, as a cook fallen victim to Adkin's more syrupy words, contributed more than her role's share of fun."

Miss Smith, a freshman at SAC, is also a pledge to Alpha Hi, a chapter of Eta Upsilon Gamma and member of National College Panhellenic.

Mr. and Mrs. Chaney visited with their daughter, Earlene, who is also a SAC freshman.

Both girls are members of the Ramettes Drill Team. Earlene spent last week-end in Lubbock with a delegation from the San Angelo College Home-making Department.

Gayle Rippeloe Wins Grid Contest

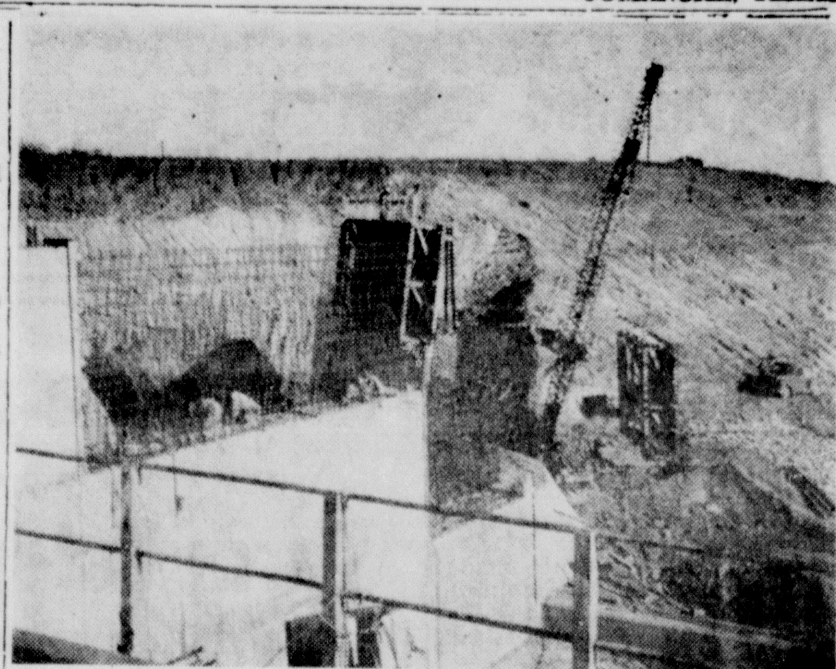

Gayle Rippeloe, local postal clerk, was winner of The Chief's Football Contest this week—predicting all games correctly, and coming closest to the 28-22 Comanche win over Hamilton. He's the winner of $5 first prize.

Mrs. Mary Ruth Ross, Box 491, Comanche, also called all the winners and won second. Paul Livingston, Box 351, Comanche, picked all the games correctly and was awarded their prize. Each wins a subscription to The Chief for one year.

Sherman Sides, Rt. 2, De Leon; Wayne Hill, Comanche; Roy Pope, Comanche, and Brantley C. Smith, Comanche, get special honorable mention for also calling all the games correct.

Missing just one contest for honorable mention were: E. W. Sullivan, Comanche; Dr. T. H. Sharp, De Leon; Sammy Frasier, Rt. 1, Gorman; Mrs. M. E. Elliott, Brownwood; Ben Hulsey, De Leon; T. C. Carter, Whitney; Hoy Floyd, Comanche; Mrs. Cecelia Hall, Comanche; Mrs. W. E. Armstrong, Mineral Wells; Harold Parrish, Comanche; Ricky Holden, Comanche; Elza Perry, De Leon; J. S. Norton, Comanche; Barney Davis, Comanche; Melvin Harkins, Comanche; Neil Rose Webb, Comanche; Charles Wright, Comanche; Donnie Hicks, Comanche; Jim Bob Basham, Priddy; G. A. Reid, Graham; Charlie Straub, De Leon; Charles Hicks, Enid, Okla.; E. P. Reid, Comanche; Mrs. F. J. Smith, Brownwood; Alice Stokes, Brownwood; Jimmy Wilkerson, University of Texas; Mrs. I. M. Davis, Comanche, and F. F. Ross, Comanche.

None of the games played last week seemed to be too difficult for the experts. Cisco's win over Granbury was the big upset in last week's contest. But the games are harder this week. Turn to the Football Page this issue and get in on the fun.

1963 Wheat Program Cited

Wheat diversion and additional price-support payments are new features of the 1963 wheat stabilization program, William F. Bryant, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Comanche County Committee, said recently.

These payments were provided by the new farm law, signed by President Kennedy on September 27. They supplement the marketing quotas and price supports previously in effect from the 1963 wheat crop.

The Chairman explained that the diversion payments will be similar to the payments made under the 1962 wheat stabilization program. They will be available to growers who reduce their wheat acreage by at least 20 percent and who devote the diverted acres to an approved conservation use. The payment will be based on the farm's established wheat yield and one-half the county price-support loan rate.

In addition, a price-support payment of 18 cents a bushel on the normal production (established yield) of the final 1963 wheat acreage will be available to growers who participate in the wheat-diversion part of the program. Small farms must also be in compliance with their farm acreage allotments in order to be eligible for price-support loans or purchase agreements and the 18-cent price-support payment.

Price-support loans and purchase agreements averaging $1.82 per bushel nationally will be available to growers who comply with their acreage allotments. This part of the wheat program is the same as in previous years.

Chairman Bryant pointed out that the regular price-support is available on the 1963-crop wheat which a grower produces in compliance with his farm allotment and puts under loan or purchase agreement. The 18-cent payment, in the other hand, is made to such a grower—who is also participating in the wheat diversion program—on the normal yield of the 1963 wheat acreage, no matter how much he actually produces.

Chairman Bryant said that the sign-up in the wheat diversion program is now under way. Notices have been prepared and mailed to farmers, telling them how provisions of the program may apply to their farms. He urged that any questions about the program be referred to the ASCS County Office.

Mrs. C. D. Statum Taken By Death

Mrs. Margaret Mae Statum, 81, 816 Thurston Dr., Fort Worth, and a former Comanche County resident, passed away Friday, Nov. 2, in Fort Worth.

Funeral services for Mrs. Statum, who lived in the Sidney community for many years, were held at 3 p.m. Sunday, Nov. 4 at the Sidney Church of Christ, with Ministers Lloyd Frederick and Harold Pite officiating.

Burial was in the Pendergrass Cemetery at Sidney, under direction of the Comanche Funeral Home.

Pallbearers were Jack Hendrix, Sr., Carl Walker, Burton Caffey, Jess Caffey, J. A. Cox, and Reginald Pinkard.

She was a member of the Church of Christ.

Mrs. Statum, daughter of the late William C. and Margaret Ann Statum, was born March 30, 1881 in Wood County.

When a young woman, she was married to Charles D. Statum and they were companions until his death in November 1959. Mr. and Mrs. Statum reared their children in Comanche County on a farm near Sidney, where they took an active part in community and county affairs before moving to Fort Worth a few years ago.

Mrs. Statum is survived by four sons, Ralph and C. D. Statum, both of Fort Worth, and C. Mansell and Glen W. Statum, both of Riverside, California; a daughter, Mrs. Frederick Morrison of Fort Worth; a step-daughter, Mrs. S. F. Porter of Brownwood; a half-sister, Mrs. Sam Braswell of Vidor; 10 grandchildren, and 7 great-grandchildren.

Spook House Attracts 4-H Junior Leaders

DOROTHEA BYRD, Reporter

Comanche 4-H Junior Leaders Association met Saturday night, October 13th at the courthouse. From there they went to Gustine, where they met other Junior Leaders. The group then journeyed to a house in the country which had been decorated and made into a spook house by the Gustine Junior Leaders.

Lantern light threw shadows on the walls as ghost stories were told. President John Cunningham then called the meeting to order. Jane Ann Robertson, secretary, called the roll and read the minutes. The group then took care of the business brought up. The meeting was then adjourned.

Hanging on to one another, we made a tour of the house proving there were no ghosts, but there was still a spooky atmosphere about the house. Afterwards we enjoyed Cokes and cup cakes and then we played games. After a wonderful time, everyone traveled home.

Brief History Of Comanche County

Source of Information: Col. J. D. Bonner, June 1964 and list of names with the date of death filed at the local post office. Author of original article, the late Murt J. Sullivan.

The oldest institution in Comanche County except the court house is the U. S. Post Office which has been in operation since April 27, 1869. The post office was established May 31, 1860 with H. Tankersley as postmaster. Tankersley served as postmaster until Texas joined the Southern Confederacy February 22, 1862. In a convention held at the time of the secession, the votes of the delegates to join the Southern Confederacy were then submitted to the voters of the different counties. Texas and the proposition by a vote of about 10 to 1 was carried. Governor Sam Houston was one of the main men who opposed the measure.

On the 16th day of March 1862, Governor Houston left his chair at Austin as Governor of Texas and retired to his home in Waller County where he died July 1863 and was buried at Huntsville where he was a member of the Texas College campus is a public building today.

When Tankersley resigned as postmaster, if he did so, it was revealed in history. Since the Southern Confederacy had a postmaster General, it is reasonable to suppose that Tankersley was postmaster for the Confederacy during the Civil War.

The record simply says Tankersley was appointed postmaster April 27, 1869 and that the post office was discontinued January 23, 1906 by J. F. McCarty.

When Thomas J. Nabers was appointed postmaster, it was at that time the U. S. Post Office has been continuous.

There was a vast difference in the amount of business done at the post office at Comanche when it was established more than 100 years ago when the few settlers in from Gatesville in a horse back, and was housed in a cubby-hole at a residence and the system of 1924 when 4 clerks and carriers were employed in addition to the postmaster.

There is still a greater difference when compared with the year of 1962 when two regular employees and two substitute clerks employed and 2 city mail carriers, 5 rural route carriers, and a route carrier, a custodian in addition to the postmaster making a payroll force of 14. There is a fine fireproof Federal building with a replacement value of $150,000.

The original office was located there were no money for parcel post, and post office deposits were unheard of.

In the present time more mail is sold, and more mail is carried in one day than there was in an entire year at the time.

Mentioned in last week's issue there was a post office at Comanche as early as July 1862 when Thomas C. Frost was appointed postmaster. That office was discontinued September 1, 1868 according to Uncle Carnes who said that first mail was brought to Comanche from Gatesville in a two horse wagon with Sam Bigham as driver.

The post office was established in Comanche with Mr. Carnes as postmaster it was located in his dwelling house on the corner where Henderson's Market of 1962 is now located.

There was the same residence where the settlers gathered. George McKinzie, brother of George McKinzie, was an Indian.

The post office was re-established at Comanche after the Civil War, April 27, 1869 Thomas J. Nabers was appointed postmaster with Uncle Bill Carnes as his assistant.

First Postmaster Killed

Jim Tankersley, Comanche's first postmaster, was also a trader, and once when he and another man were taking a load of meat to Fort McKavett, they both were killed by Indians near Trickham in Coleman County.

April 18, 1872, Joe Hardin, the brother of John Wesley Hardin was appointed postmaster at Comanche. He served until he was hanged in April 1873 by a mob in the woods east of Oakwood Cemetery. After Hardin's death, April 3, 1873, Judge Nathan Yarbrough was appointed to succeed Hardin. Yarbrough was re-appointed April 5, 1875, and served until 1881.

Judge Yarbrough was the father of Mrs. G. H. Hart, Mrs. R. M. Garner and John Garner, all of whom were living in Comanche when this original article was written by Murt Sullivan in 1924. It was during Yarbrough's administration that the Comanche office became a money order office on July 1, 1878.

First Money Order

The first money order in Comanche was bought by the late E. U. Weisendanger and was for $10 and was drawn on New York. The second money was purchased by J. D. Bonner for $2.70 and was drawn on St. Louis, Mo.

The first day money orders were put on sale, a total of six were issued, and during the first month, 134 were purchased, and during the first year, 2,021 were issued.

During the year of 1923, the year before this original article was written, 10,825 domestic money orders were issued and 216 were foreign.

The first money order paid off in Comanche was for $20 on July 11, 1878. It was issued in Greenville, Alabama and was paid to T. A. Driver.

From 1878 to June 1924 a total of 192,000 domestic money orders were issued in Comanche.

The first money order business was attended to by Uncle Bob Garner who was assistant to Postmaster Yarbrough at the time.

Judge Yarbrough was succeeded as postmaster April 4, 1881 by D. A. Campbell and Campbell was succeeded on July 10, 1885 by R. M. Garner.

Uncle Bob Garner was succeeded as postmaster by Berch Taylor April 20, 1889. Mr. Taylor was an uncle of Bernard and Robert Riley.

Mr. Taylor served only a little over a year and was succeeded November 15, 1890 by Arthur L. Kemper. Mr. Kemper was followed in office by A. L. Hamilton on October 28, 1893.

Mr. Hamilton was the founder of the Hamilton Drug Store which flourished for many years in Comanche.

Mr. Hamilton was succeeded by Elisha B. Atterbury June 17, 1897. Mr. Atterbury served 9 years and was succeeded on January 23, 1906 by J. F. McCarty.

On April 5, 1910 George L. Sullivan, a brother of the late Murt Sullivan, and of the present Assistant Postmaster, E. W. Sullivan was appointed postmaster. George Sullivan was the youngest man ever appointed to that office, being only 25 years of age at the time. He was a school teacher and a building contractor and for a number of years served as secretary of the Comanche School Board.

On March 18, 1914, J. F. Reese, who later served as county judge, was appointed postmaster.

Judge Reese was succeeded as postmaster by John M. Rieger, an attorney, who also once served as county judge.

Judge Rieger was succeeded as postmaster on August 15, 1919 by the late W. H. Carpenter, for many years a teacher and principal in the Comanche school system, and on two different occasions was a partner in the management of The Comanche Chief. He died July 1, 1935 after a brief and successful career as an insurance man. He was the second youngest man ever to serve as postmaster, being only 32 years of age at the time of his appointment.

John C. Henderson succeeded Mr. Carpenter as postmaster on November 1, 1921, getting the appointment from President W. G. Harding, who was a Republican. Carpenter had been appointed by President Woodrow Wilson, a Democrat.

Murt J. Sullivan was appointed to succeed Mr. Henderson as postmaster on February 14, 1923, being 32 years of age at the time. Mr. Sullivan was a former school teacher and was elected as the first secretary of the Comanche Lions Club when it was organized in 1924, and was still serving in that capacity as well as postmaster at the time of his untimely death in July 1929.

W. D. C. Dingus, a Republican was appointed postmaster on July 26, 1929. E. L. Carpenter, a clerk and assistant postmaster at the time of Murt Sullivan's death served as acting postmaster for a month after the death of Murt Sullivan until the appointment of Mr. Dingus.

Mr. Dingus served as postmaster from July 26, 1929 until March 6, 1930 when Major Geo. B. Black, a former Texas Ranger, was appointed postmaster.

Major Black, once president of the Ex-Rangers Association of Texas, served as postmaster for almost 4 years from March 6, 1930 until J. R. Eanes was appointed postmaster January 24, 1934. Black, a Republican, served as postmaster during the presidency of Calvin Coolidge.

J. R. Eanes got his appointment as postmaster on January 24, 1930 under President Franklin D. Roosevelt, a Democrat. He served until he reached the retirement age August 24, 1944, a period of a little over ten years, the longest term of any man in the history of the office up to that time.

But the man who was to serve the longest period up to now, was Robert L. Eaton who took the oath of office on August 1, 1944 and served up to January 1, 1962 was Robert L. Eaton, a former banker and one of Comanche's most highly respected citizens. He served as postmaster for more than 17 years.

Our present postmaster James E. Carpenter, age 35, is the third youngest man ever to hold that office. He took charge on January 1, 1962 as acting postmaster, and was confirmed in October, receiving the uncontested recommendation of Congressman Omar Burleson and was appointed by President John F. Kennedy.

Carpenter, known as "Jimmie" to his friends, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Carpenter of Comanche and is married to the former Miss Charlene Stewart of Comanche. They have 2 daughters and a son.

Jim is a graduate of Comanche High School and attended the University of Texas before serving a stretch in the armed services of his country during World War II and again in the Korean Conflict. Since that time, he has spent most of his time serving the local post office as a mail carrier and postal clerk. He comes from a family who has had much experience in the U. S. postal service. His father was for a number of years a substitute rural mail carrier as was his uncle, Bob Carpenter. Former Postmaster W. H. Carpenter also was his uncle, as is Ernest L. Carpenter, who retired a few years ago after serving about years either in the office as assistant postmaster, clerk or rural route carrier.

Jimmie, a veteran of 12 years in the postal service, has a bright future before him in his new capacity as postmaster, as the post office at this time enjoys the greatest business at any time since it was established over 100 years ago. Total business in 1961 was just under $50,000, and is sure to go over that mark in 1962 was just under $50,000, and is sure to go over that mark in 1962 which will entitle the Comanche office to become a First Class Office for the first time in history. This compares with a business of $14,000 done by the office in 1923, the year before the first part of this article was written by the late Murt L. Sullivan in 1924, thirty-eight years ago.

1963 Wool Incentive Price

A shorn wool incentive price of 62 cents per pound has been announced for the period beginning next April, William F. Bryant, Chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Comanche County Committee, has announced. The mohair support price will be 76 cents per pound. The incentive price for shorn wool is the same as for the first 8 years of the program; the mohair price is up 2 cents from the level for the 1962 marketing year.

The chairman also explained that the beginning next April, the marketing year under the wool program is being changed from April-March 31 period to a calendar year basis, in line with recommendations from producers. In making this transition, the 1963 marketing year will be a 9-month one—from April 1 thru December 31, 1963. After 1963 the marketing year will be on a 12-month calendar year basis. Payments to producers for the 1963 marketing year will follow the same methods employed for the current 1962 year. Shorn wool payments will be equal to a percentage of each producer's cash returns from wool sales. The percentage will be that required to raise the national average price received by all producers for shorn wool up to the incentive price of 62 cents a pound.

Support for pulled wool is provided by means of payments to producers who sell lambs that have never been shorn. The payments will be at a rate per hundredweight of live animals marketed to compensate for the wool on them on a basis comparable to the national average incentive payment per pound of shorn wool.

With the marketing year ending December 31, payments for the 1963 and later marketing years will be made beginning in April following the close of the year rather than beginning in July, as in the past.

Payments now being made under the national wool program are for the 1961 marketing year. Current marketings of wool and lamb (from April 1, 1962, through March 31, 1963) may qualify for payments under the wool program for the 1962 marketing year.

Presbyterian Notes

The topic at 7 p.m. will be, "Jesus, The Good Shepherd." The young peoples' choir will lead the congregational singing.

Sunday School at 10 a.m. Ken Rachels is general superintendent.

The young people meet in the fellowship hall at 7 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Rachels are adult advisors.

HEARING AID SHORTAGE SEEN

We have been informed by our Lab that there is a good possibility that the Electronic parts that go to make Hearing Aids and Hearing Instruments will be hard to get due to the present Cuban trouble. As most of you know the small electronic parts are used in our rockets, etc. This not only means that new Hearing Aids and Hearing Instruments will be hard to get, but will make parts to repair old Aids Mr. Treadway hard to get.

We hope that this never happens, but we feel it our duty to inform you of the possibility. If this happens you can be sure that the price will go sky high on the few we will be able to get. We have been assured that we will be able to fill all orders on Hearing Aids, Hearing Instruments, and repair parts for the next 30 days—after that no one knows.

Mr. Treadway who is an Audiologist will hold his regular Hearing Clinic at the DeLuxe Motel in Comanche, Monday, Nov. 12th from 10 AM to 1 PM.

We have two ways to fit the hard of hearing. For those that can wear a Hearing Aid we carry a complete line of body type, behind the ear, and hearing glasses and as always we can save you from $50.00 to $100.00. For those that can not wear a hearing aid we fit the custom built Hearing Instruments. (These are for the people that suffer from nerve deafness, and for those that hear but don't understand.) We now make it possible for you to be sure you can hear before you buy. If you have been thinking about getting a new Hearing Aid, or Hearing Instrument, or if your present Aid needs repair it would be to your advantage to come in while we are still able to take care of you.

Our new Temple office is open every day to serve you, but Mr. Treadway is there only on Thursdays and Fridays.

Hasley Reunion Held At Lake

By Mrs. O. B. Hasley, Sec.

The late Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hasley and family met for their reunion recently at the Comanche Lake Park. Some of the family met Friday night and Saturday and spent the night and cooked their food on a campfire and their beds were set up.

On Sunday a basket lunch was prepared. The young ones played and the oldsters talked and visited.

Monday morning breakfast was cooked on a campfire and then at noon, old time fashion stew was cooked.

From our last year reunion, there were three marriages in the family and one birth—no deaths. The following children and grandchildren were present: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hasley of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Jones of Trent, Mrs. Vessie Hasley of Comanche, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Jones and son of Odessa, Mrs. Jennie Sims and daughter of Comanche, Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Parents of today are living in a country today who have successfully defended in court their children's right to ignore the Flag Salute.

Faculties and student bodies often have found it distasteful to publicly take an oath of loyalty to their country.

The United States Military Academy has found it necessary to place a sign beside its parade ground at West Point, reminding spectators that it is customary for men to remove their hats at the passing of the banner which once was unashamedly referred to as "Old Glory".

We have come quite a way since Theodore Roosevelt told us "Far better it is to dare mighty things, to win glorious triumphs, even though checked by failure, than to rank with those poor spirits who neither enjoy nor suffer much, because they live in a gray twilight that knows no victory or defeat."

Our museums of today are exhibiting on their walls today pictures by people who never learned to paint. You cannot tell the top from the bottom of their pictures.

Suffers Broken Ankle

Walter Hill, local rancher, suffered a broken left ankle, Wednesday morning, when his horse slipped on a creek bank and Mr. Hill's ankle was entangled in brush. "I was able to stay on the horse, but the ankle snapped," says Mr. Hill, who was able to be up and about town Thursday.

RIP-RAP—An estimated 70,000 tons of rock, 3" size to 48" go into place behind the spillway. Some 50 to 70 loads of rock are unloaded daily. The rock comes from Brownwood, where the Armstrong & Ryan Construction Company has a crew of some 20 to 25 men working at the quarry.

Indian Maidens Win Gage Opener

Comanche High School's Indian Maidens opened their 1962-63 basketball season Monday afternoon with two practice games against the Sidney High School A and B teams in the Sidney gymnasium.

Good sportsmanship prevailed throughout the contests as both teams seemed to be trying to find their own strength and weakness and to get in some good practice. Nevertheless, a spirited contest soon developed and both teams evidenced a desire to win even in a practice affair.

Coaches of both schools gave almost every girl on their squads a change to get into the games in order to get the feel of the ball and round into shape for the hard season ahead when the chips are down in every game.

The B-game ended with in a 19-14 score in favor of Comanche after the lead had changed hands several times.

The A-game was won by the Comanche girls by a score of 27 to 11 after a slow start by both teams.

Comanche forwards on the A-team were Darlene Humphrey, Jeanne Elrod, Pat Johnston, Dortha Byrd, Barbara Humphrey, Pam Ormsby, and Sandra Coan.

Comanche guards, most of them letter girls from last year's squad, showed good form and seemed to be getting in shape for another good season. They were Sue Collins, Cassie Wilhelm, Mary Ann Cloud, Doris Evans, Judy Hicks, and Letha Dunn.

The Indian Maidens play the Pottsville girls at Pottsville next Tuesday night.
